

The UCLA Careers In... Series

This series is open to Master's students, PhD students, and Postdoctoral Scholars.

About the Series:

The UCLA Careers In... Series highlights a variety of career pathways through a series of monthly panel discussions. Panelists include alumni and other professionals that are currently working in each career pathway. Panelists' will share their own career trajectory, advice on how to transition from graduate school/postdoctoral research to specific fields, and insights on leveraging an advanced degree.
